The Nemetschek Engineering User Contest 2011 Winners are known...

First of all we thank all participants for their most valuable contributions to the biennial contest. The quality of the 117 entered projects is of a very high level; one can judge by browsing through the online flipping eBook. All projects are also bundled in an exclusive colourful hardcopy book, explaining in detail the technical challenges and how the users solved these with the help of Nemetschek Engineering Group software. It offers all participating companies a unique opportunity to show their know-how and professionalism to the outside world. One can order a free hardcopy of the User Contest Book.

We also invite the reader to download the contest iBook for iPad and other mobile devices or get the book in PDF format.

An international jury was formed with nine members representing both the academic and industrial community. Given the high diversity and incomparable originality of the submitted projects, the deliberation was a tough but interesting challenge. The projects were evaluated on technical expertise, originality and prestige, level of attractiveness and the correct application of the used software. Meet the jury members in the Nemetschek Engineering User Contest online flipping book!

And now... the Winners and their Projects...

In each of the five categories, one winner and three nominees were selected. On top a 'Special Jury BIM Prize' was picked out; the selection criterion was the level of BIM and interoperability. The winners are:
